MIAMI, Fla. – January 14, 2002 – International curtain wall and glazing expert Mark Baker, president of IBA Consultants, will be the featured speaker at two major annual meetings: "Building the 21st Century" presented by the Ft. Lauderdale Chapter of the Construction Specifications Institute on January 30, and ASTM's Ninth Symposium on Science and Technology of Building Seals, Sealants, Glazing and Waterproofing on February 6. Both meetings will be held in Ft. Lauderdale.

Baker, who has IBA offices in Miami, Sarasota and Boca Raton, will present themes on structural glazing failure at the ASTM symposium and the new Florida building code and jobsite testing at the CSI meeting. With more than fifteen years of experience with exterior wall systems including glass and aluminum curtain-walls, windows and sliding doors, pre-cast panels, stone on truss systems and masonry cavity walls, Baker is considered an expert in the investigation of high-rise cladding failures, investigation and documenting deficiencies, preparing specifications for remedial work, inspecting and testing repair work.

"I am very honored to have been selected to present my views and opinions to my fellow colleagues," stated Baker. "I am also honored that the paper I am presenting at ASTM will be included in their Building Seals, Sealants, Glazing and Waterproofing annual journal.

"It is my hope that my presentations will not only help inform my colleagues on the general topic, but also make them more aware of the specific services and expertise our organization can provide for them."

Founded in 1948, CSI is an individual membership technical society that serves as the premier integrating force for those that create and sustain the built environment, and as a primary gateway to resources for programs, services, and the exchange of knowledge. The Institute offers products and services that provide a common system of organization and presentation of construction information, enhancing communication among all construction industry disciplines. CSI's 18,000 members include architects, specifiers, engineers, contractors, product representatives, building owners, and facility managers.

ASTM International is one of the largest voluntary standards development organizations in the world and provides a forum for the development and publication of voluntary consensus standards for materials, products, systems, and services. More than 20,000 members representing producers, users, ultimate consumers, and representatives of government and academia develop documents that serve as a basis for manufacturing, procurement, and regulatory activities.
