

IBA Consultants to Answer Call for Third Party Inspections

IBA Consultants, exterior wall, roofing and waterproofing specialists, launched its Seattle office earlier this year and has announced that since then, its services have been retained by The Hanover Company and Schnitzer Northwest.

According to IBA, The Hanover company is a developer of high-quality multi-family residences and Schnitzer is one of the Pacific Northwest's leading commercial real estate investment and development companies. IBA will be providing consulting services for their high-rise and mid-rise projects in the Pacific Northwest area.

"We are pleased with our rapid growth in the Washington area and to be working with such notable companies as The Hanover Company and Schnitzer Northwest," said Mark Baker, president of IBA Consultants. "Our company has more than a decade of experience providing special third party inspections in Florida and that provides added value for our clients in the Pacific Northwest."
